Hamakua Notes.

HONOKAA, Hawaii, Dec. 13.—C. H. B. Fowler, sugar boller at Honokaa mill, has returned from a six months' business and pleasure trip to his old home in England.

Honokaa and Paauhau are the only mills in the district still grinding. There will be no interval to speak of between the two crops.

A. J. Wilson, principal of Kapulena school, is in the hospital at Honolulu, a very sick man. His school is closed for the rest of the term.

Rev. C. W. Hill will hold services in the Lyceum at Honokaa on the 23rd inst. This will be the only Christmas service held in Hamakua and a large congregation will no doubt be in attendance. Rev. Hill will minister unto the people at Honokaa once each month for the coming year.

Diphtheria and mumps are said to prevail among the children at Honokaa and Paauhau, one death at least being caused by the former disease.

Mr. Calvert is the new sugar boller at Paauhau, succeeding Wm. Petersen, who has held the place some fifteen years. Mr. Petersen becomes the boller at Honokaa plantation in order to give his children the benefit of the Honolulu schools.

Dr. Buffet, late of Nova Scotia, has located at Kukaiaua for the practice of his profession. He succeeds to the practice of Dr. Stowe, the latter intending to practice in Honolulu in the future.

A. Lidgate and wife have returned from a visit to the Coast improved in health.

Mr. A. J. Watt and Mr. A. Black and their brides are at their homes in Honokaa and Kukuihaele, respectively, since last week.

The teachers of Hamakua held a meeting in the school house at Honokaa on the 12th inst. and are said to have had an interesting program. The next meeting will occur in February.

Soft and mellow is Spruance, Stanley & Co.'s "O. F. C." whisky.

SOMETHING NEW IN CURES.

A Complete Wetting Cures a Man of Rheumatism.

He is a seasoned warhorse in politics and the hero of many a campaign. He tells what happened to him last Monday night.

"I had been to my man's house and fixed up a little deal that promised well. On my way home I was in a block of vacant lots when the cloud burst."

"Cloud burst?" from a listener.

"Yes; cloud burst. More water fell in five minutes than at any time since the deluge. I thought at first that a water main must have exploded. I had to throw my umbrella away to keep from drowning. I waded, floated, tread water and went with the tide, for temporary rheumatism in both legs kept me from running. The first port I drifted into was a drug store and the storm quit as soon as I escaped."

"I hustled home and my wife immediately ordered me to take a big dose of quinine and whisky. Five minutes later I hurried upstairs and had a catch-as-catch-can with myself, for every stitch on me stuck like a porous plaster. I thought three or four times I would lose the contest, but finally won out and soon had on a warm, dry suit.

"Now, you'd naturally think that after such an experience my rheumatism would be worse. Not a bit of it. I believe the confounded thing can be drowned, for I haven't felt a twinge since. But you can't tell. The fact that I tossed the quinine through the back window may have had something to do with it."

Years ago Major Patterson was traveling on the railroad through Western Kansas when he fell into conversation with a congenial St. Louis man, who remarked that he had an excellent scheme for hiding his money. "I simply put it under the sweatband of my hat," he said, "and no robber in the world would ever think of looking there for cash." With that he pulled off his hat and showed where he had $250 "planted" as he described. About an hour later the train was suddenly halted while it was turning a lonely ravine and in a few moments a masked man entered the car and began to systematically loot the passengers. Two other robbers kept them close with shotguns from the doors. The fellow reached him the moment he looked up coolly and declared he had less than a dollar in his pocket. "If you'll leave me that and my watch," he said, "I'll tell you something interesting. That fellow in the next car has $250 under the sweatband of his hat." "All right," said the robber, "keep your watch and chicken, and he proceeded to confiscate the passenger's cash. When the train was all over, the marauders departed the St. Louis man to around, bursting with rage and indignation. "That was a dirty, low-down trick!" he roared, "and I'm going to hold you accountable for every cent of my money!" "I expected you to be here is the amount. You see," he said, "I happen to be a paymaster in the United States army and I have a letter of $40,000 in this valise by order of $40,000 in this valise by order. Under the circumstances I felt justified in temporarily sacrificing your $250 to divert attention. I shall expect it up to the Government as 'extra' expense in transportation of funds."
